In an effort to make Oregon cleaner than ever, American Innotek has developed the answer to urine bottle dumping caused by stressed-out truckers and drivers. It is a disposable, non-polluting urine bag that combines a unique blend of polymers, enzymes and deodorizers that turn urine into an odorless and harmless gel on contact. The product, called Brief Relief™, is easy to use, cost effective, spillproof, sanitary, and already in use by our nation's military, utilities and FEMA.

CEO Cass Cassidy explains: We are responding to the passing of House Bill #3530 which addresses a real necessity and calls for fines up to $250 and suspension of driver's licenses for commercial drivers convicted of leaving urine-filled bottles on roadsides. The people of Oregon have a right to know. There is a solution, and it is called Brief Relief™.

ADD2 – Company Helps Oregon Stay Cleaner as legislature ups the ante for polluting drivers.

This is a solution that ties in with the bill passed by the Oregon legislature.

American Innotek is embarking on an unprecedented campaign to inform Oregon: from Governor Kitzhaber to every legislator; from Oregon's Department of Transportation to the media including Channel 2 KATU, Channel 8 KGW, and Channel 6 KOIN; to The Oregonian; Oregon Business; and every Oregonian who cares and will respond.

To get involved and join the campaign call (800) 366-3941 or visit the website at www.BriefRelief.com. Help make Oregon even cleaner. You can help. Call your representative and request Brief Relief by American Innotek. In Oregon. In the world. There's no better way to go.
